equal proportions. "4 - Absence of unpleasant taste. "On examining the chief waters on the English me'cket with a view of making a selection, one is struck with the fact that a newly-imported water, the 'Franz Josef,' contains 190 and 178 grains to the pound of Sulphates of Magnesia and Soda respectively. This is much in excess of the quantities contained by either Hunyadi Janos, Frie irichshall, or Aesculap. It is evidently the strongest water by far, whilst at the same time it fortunately happens to be almost tanteless." REPORT BY PROPESSOR ATTRIBLD.-"This my latest analysis of the 'Franz Josef' Spring proves again that it affords one of the richest of all aperiont waters in the salts of magnesium and sodium, especially the sulphates. The water is certainly less unpalatable than might be expected, either from its composition or from the taste of weaker aperiont water .- (Signed) JOHN ATTRIBLE."

THE excitement in the different cities the Yangtsze Valley has apparently subsided for the time being, and a little more security is being felt by foreign residents at the river treaty ports, but it would be a mistake to conclude that all danger is past. The same elements of disturbance remain, perdu perhaps, but none the less there, and in all probability the same desire to create trouble still exists, if necessarily inactive now. The spirit of mischief has been scotched, not killed, and circumstances may yet cause it to again rear its head, at an unexpected moment, in an unsuspected locality. The antimissionary riots and outbreaks are said t of the provisions of the treaties, for a senson have been, and believed to have been, instigated by the secret societies, who it is further thought hoped thus to embroil the Imperial Government of Peking with Foreign Powers.
